THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1958

EXETER TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL

Reiffton, Pennsylvania

FOREWORD

Here we stand — on the threshold of a new adventure. Our future glimmers brightly before us. Excitement soars; all our hopes and desires for the future are becoming more and more tangible. We feel compulsion to race forward and gather all these dreams to us quickly so that nothing is lost. But alas, this cannot be done. Not all of our dreams are ripe for harvest. They are still merely seedlings in our minds.

For the past eighteen years our parents and teachers have been working diligently to cultivate our minds and sow seeds which possibly will produce a rich harvest of happiness for us. These years will always be remembered by us: the early years of freedom and gaiety when we played in the sun, oblivious of trouble around us; our elementary school days when vast horizons were opened to us through reading and writing; and finally our high school days with unlimited experiences in many phases of life.

Of all these years the year '57-'58 is most likely to remain in our memory. This, our senior year, was an exciting year. Our studies and activities kept us in a constant whirl. We raced from one thing to another with seldom a moment to catch our breath. For many of us, this year was to be the last year of our formal education. It was a last chance for preparation to meet the world. Others were attempting to gather enough education to carry them onto higher levels of education. The seeds were growing in our minds and we were beginning to realize what our goals of life were.

Aside from studies we gleaned a different type of education, a social education. Our class, being rather small, was a companionable class. We worked hard to present our Senior Class play, "Mother Is A Freshman." We undertook numerous projects to raise funds for our class expenses, especially the trip to New York. As the school year drew to a close, we were filled with mixed emotions. We needed room to expand; we were looking for new ways of attaining our goals. Yet, we choked back tears many times when we realized that we must leave our Alma Mater. Yes, the memories of this year will linger with us forever.

Now we are ready for this new adventure. Hard work will be needed to make the seedlings blossom and finally bear fruit. Storms may hamper our hopes, but nevertheless, they will continue to mature.

We will go forward steadily, slowly and carefully gathering the fruits of life, sorting the good from the bad. The bad we discard; the good we keep and preserve with our joy at finally reaching our goal.

The Year

57-58

Faculty

TO THE CLASS OF '58:

No man can give you an education—you have to want it. Where you go from here will depend upon where you want to go and how hard you are willing to work to get there. I hope that you will look for opportunity rather than for security.

The world doesn't need mediocrity. One machine can replace 50 ordinary men, but no machine can replace one extraordinary man.

Today reaching for the moon is no longer an expression for the impossible. Space, the greatest frontier conceivable, is now open for man to conquer.

My wish for you is that you may play an extraordinary part in the drama that lies ahead.

Yours most sincerely,
M. LUTHER LAUSCH
Supervising Principal

ADMINISTRATION

GETTING OUT THE PAPER

Getting out a newspaper is no picnic. If we print jokes, folks say we are silly. If we don't they say we are too serious. If we write our own stuff, we lack variety. If we use syndicated items, they say we should write about our own people. If we stay in the office, we should be out rustling up news. If we go out to rustle up news, we should stop bothering people. If we don't print contributions, we are unappreciative. If we print them, all the paper is filled with is a lot of junk. If we are late, they accuse us of being lazy. If we are early, we have no sense of timing. Like as not, some fellow will even say we swiped this from another paper.

We did!
